Gail Bernard has over 20 years of experience in the Information Technology and Consulting Services Industry. Her career began with DaimlerChrysler after completing a Bachelor of Business Administration in Management Information Systems from the University of Michigan. While at DaimlerChrysler, her career evolved from Programmer to Sr. Analyst. Gail joined a local consulting firm and moved into a Senior Account Representative responsible for the EDS and DaimlerChrysler accounts.

In 1992, Gail became Branch Manager for Kelly Technical Services. Under her direction, her office grew 75% to over $30 million in revenue. In 1996, she began the startup of the Detroit office for Interactive Business Systems. As Branch Director, Gail founded and implemented several technology service offerings including the Enterprise and Network Technology group, Oracle Consulting group and PeopleSoft Consulting. Her contributions to the growth of Detroit office included overseeing the fastest growing and most profitable branch in the 20-year history of IBS. Gail has worked for an IBM Business Partner supporting and providing IT infrastructure solutions to diverse clients and for AMI Strategies, a technology expense company as a Sr. Consultant.

Currently, Gail is a Project Specialist for United States District Court - Eastern District of Michigan. She is responsible for establishing and implementing the Project Management Office for all Court Units. Her scope of responsibility includes monitoring all Court projects to ensure their timely execution.

In May 2002, she was joined the Michigan Council of Women in Technology (MCWT) and serves on the Managing Board as Operations Chair. In her position, Gail manages the technology growth of MCWT. She is also on the Advisory Board for The Midwest Technology Leaders.
