

Mamatha Chamarthi – Senior Manager of Information Technology, Daimler Financial Services

Mamatha Chamarthi is a well-rounded leader, with over 16 years of Information Technology experience. She holds a Master's of Business Administration from Kellogg School of Management at Northwestern University in addition to her Master's of Science in Computer Science and Software Engineering and Master's of Art in English Literature degrees.

Mamatha has held a series of positions with increasing responsibilities, as well as increasingly complex technological and leadership challenges. She began her career as a Programmer/Analyst and has moved to the position of Senior Manager. Throughout her career, she has been a thought leader in driving strategic value to the business and the implementation of new technologies, systems and processes.

Mamatha has won several awards and recognitions; recent recognitions include: voted as "Role Model" of the Executive MBA class of 2008 at Kellogg School of Management, recognized as a "Technology All Star" by the Women of Color in Technology Institute. Mamatha is an active mentor and a participant in many professional organizations including Michigan Council of Women in Technology and Women in Information Technology International.